BY MAUDE BARLOW AND TONY CLARKE

AN OPEN INVITATION

To individuals and organizations concerned with water issues. Help create a global event on March 22nd 2009 (World Water Day).

We are offering a free DVD of Blue Gold – World Water Wars to everyone who promises to organize a screening of the doc on this date.

Blue Gold focuses on the battle between rapidly depleting supplies and individual rights to water, and accelerating efforts to privatize and control those supplies by corporations and governments.

To accept our invitation you should email us at: ideasinmotion@martinrobertson.ca with your name, address and organisation contact info, and we will help you create a special event around the screening.

State whether the dvd should be in NTSC or PAL, and note it's currently only available in English.
